ABOUT THE COLLEGE

Govind Ballabh Pant Institute of Engineering & Technology (GBPIET), Pauri, Uttarakhand is an Engineering Institute established by the Government of Uttar Pradesh in 1989 for imparting Engineering Education and promoting technological environment in Garhwal region, the state and country. It started its first academic session from 1991-92 and since then the Institute has always been a pioneer in solving practical problems and priorities of present scenario of the region. As a panacea, it aims at shaping engineers, whose number is at par with its counterparts anywhere in the country. The students of GBPIET have already made a mark for themselves in prestigious organizations and reputed institutes in India & abroad. Presently, the institute is an Autonomous Institute of the Government of Uttarakhand, affiliated to the Uttarakhand Technical University (UTU), Dehradun since academic year 2006-07.

ABOUT THE IEEE Student Chapter

IEEE Student Branch of GBPIET, Pauri seeks to enhance the learning experience of the student community in GBPIET. The Student Branch focuses on conducting social and technical activities for students, and also encourages the students to take full advantage of IEEE membership, including scholarships, competitions, and conference grants. The Student Branch also intends to provide opportunities for students to network with peers in other institutes, academicians, professionals, engineers, and scientists through the on campus IEEE Student Branch and the Local IEEE Section, thereby encouraging students to be a part of the global IEEE community. The IEEE student branch GBPIET is the complete institute level part of the IEEE Uttar Pradesh Section.
